In the Specification

Please replace the paragraph beginning on line 12 of page 4 with the following paragraph:

For purposes of explaining the present invention, the simple example of three base stations 12 receiving signals from three mobile terminals 16 is used. In this example, each one of the mobile terminals 16 transmits a signal to each base station 12. Each mobile terminal 16 transmits the same signal to all three base stations 12; however, the signals transmitted by different mobile terminals 16 are different. The transmitted signals combine at each base
